Keith Brown received his PhD in anthropology from the University of Chicago. He has taught courses in international studies and anthropology. Before Brown University, he has served at Bowdoin College and the University of Wales. Dr. Brown has been a senior fellow at the U.S. Institute of Peace and a Fulbright fellow in Macedonia (2012-13). His research focuses on the Balkans, especially relations between Macedonia, Greece, and Bulgaria. More recently, he has also worked with diverse learning communities in the U.S. military. His most recent book is Loyal Unto Death: Trust and Terror in Revolutionary Macedonia (Indiana University Press, 2013).

Keith Brown received his PhD in anthropology from the University of Chicago. He has taught courses in international studies and anthropology. Before Brown University, he has served at Bowdoin College and the University of Wales. Dr. Brown has been a senior fellow at the U.S. Institute of Peace and a Fulbright fellow in Macedonia (2012-13). His research focuses on the Balkans, especially relations between Macedonia, Greece, and Bulgaria. More recently, he has also worked with diverse learning communities in the U.S. military. His most recent book is Loyal Unto Death: Trust and Terror in Revolutionary Macedonia (Indiana University Press, 2013).

RSVP: melikiancenter@asu.edu or 480-965-4188
Info at: http://melikian.asu.edu/events

March 5, 2015 7:30 PM Coor Hall, Room 174