Academic Year (AY) Foreign Language & Area Studies Fellowship (FLAS) provides eligible undergraduates with a $5,000 living stipend and up to $10,000 in tuition and fees. Eligible AY graduate students are awarded a $20,000 living stipend and up to $18,000 in tuition and fees.

Undergraduate and graduate FLAS Fellowships are available for students studying the following languages at the intermediate or advanced level: Albanian, Armenian, Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian (BCS), Kazakh, Macedonian, Persian, Polish, Romanian, Russian, Tatar, Turkish, Ukrainian, or Uzbek. Graduate students may study at a beginner level IF they have demonstrated advanced proficiency in another language related to field of study.

Eligibility:

1. Applicants must be a U.S. Citizen, National, or Permanent Resident.
2. Applicants must be a degree-seeking student in good standing at Arizona State University (ASU) or have been accepted as a degree-seeking student at ASU.
3. Applicant must be eligible to receive an Arizona State University tuition scholarship.
4. AY applicants must be prepared to enroll in at least one Russian, Eurasian, or East European area studies course for the Fall and Spring Semester. (Not applicable for Summer applicants.)
5. Applicants must be prepared to enroll in the one of the following languages: Albanian, Armenian, Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian (BCS), Kazakh, Macedonian, Persian, Polish, Romanian, Russian, Tatar, Turkish, Ukrainian, or Uzbek.
6. Applicants must have a 3.0 minimum GPA and a demonstrated interest in Central and/or Eastern Europe. Applicants with less than a 3.0 GPA are encouraged to apply and address their GPA in the Statement of Purpose.
7. Students wishing to be considered under the competitive preference category of financial need should submit their entire FAFSA form. (See below.) All eligible students will be considered, regardless of need.
8. Applicants from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.
9. Applicants from all majors are encouraged to apply.

*Please note: FLAS awards are contingent upon funding from the U.S. Department of Education.
